

Bring your red-hot questions on Energy Code changes and get answers from an expert in the industry

Join us as we explore the 2019 Residential Energy Code changes. We will concentrate on how the energy code looks at new single-family homes and what does it mean for existing single-family homes.

Changes for the energy code are happening rapidly and we will look at free resources available through Energy Code Ace www.energycodeace.com

Learning units for this program and the objectives are:

1. Review requirements for new single-family homes emphasizing envelope features;
2. Differentiate how the rules change when the project is an alteration to an existing home;
3. Be aware of the changes coming in the 2019 Title 24 Part 6 energy code cycle;
4. Increase awareness of the free resources and information available through Energy Code Ace.
